

were rejected and, in fact, appeared in Ramsey County District Court to oppose the disclosure of that information.

3. Eventually, by court order, the Franken Committee obtained data concerning rejected absentee ballots, and ultimately learned that the counties and cities had rejected approximately 12,000 absentee ballots, some in error. The Franken Committee requested repeatedly that the State Canvassing Board and county canvassing boards review and consider, in the recount and in canvasses, erroneously rejected absentee ballots. The Coleman campaign opposed each such request.

4. On December 12, 2008, Deputy Secretary of State Jim Gelbmann testified to the State Canvassing Board that there were an estimated 12,000 rejected absentee ballots and that, of that number, approximately 13%, or about 1,600, appeared to have been rejected erroneously. Based on this testimony, the State Canvassing Board recommended that county canvassing boards reconvene to identify, open, and count erroneously rejected absentee ballots. On December 12, 2008, however, the Coleman campaign filed a petition in this Court seeking an order prohibiting county election officials and county canvassing boards from opening and counting any erroneously rejected absentee ballots.

5. In the December 18 Order, this Court ordered the establishment and implementation of a process to identify and review erroneously rejected absentee ballots. First, local election officials were ordered to identify for the candidates' review ballots rejected in error. Second, any absentee ballots so identified that the local officials and candidates agree were rejected in error were to be opened and counted in the election for United States Senator. These directions were repeated in an amended order issued by the Court on December 24, 2008 ("the December 24 Order"), which included instructions to preserve ballot secrecy.

6. Pursuant to the December 18 Order and the December 24 Order, and working well into the afternoon on Christmas Eve Day, the Secretary of State's Office, local officials, and the two candidates agreed to a process which the Coleman campaign describes as the "Protocol." As noted in the Motion for Emergency Order, at 2, "[t]he Protocol reflected the parties' good faith negotiation and agreement regarding the appropriate means to accomplish the Court's mandate." The Protocol was emailed to the parties and the members of the State Canvassing Board at 9:26 p.m. on December 24, 2008. A copy is attached hereto as Exhibit A.

7. Pursuant to the December 18 Order, the December 24 Order, and the Protocol, local officials in the elections offices and the county attorneys offices throughout the state worked long hours throughout the holiday week to identify erroneously rejected absentee ballots and to furnish both candidates lists of ballots recommended to be opened and counted. By the close of business on Friday, December 26, 2008, the local officials' lists totaled approximately 1,350 ballots, from 60 counties. At no point during this process did the Coleman campaign object, suggest that the process to which they had agreed was flawed or incomplete, or even hint in any way that hundreds of additional ballots should be reviewed by the counties.

8. The Protocol contemplated that, over the weekend and prior to a meeting with the Deputy Secretary of State and the Recount Official scheduled for Monday, December 29, at 10 a.m., the two candidates would try to reach agreement on which ballots on the local officials' lists would be opened and counted. The Protocol further specified that ballots other than those on the local officials' lists would be considered only if the two candidates reached agreement on them, and notified the local officials of those additional ballots by 3 p.m. that day. This deadline was required so that local officials could prepare for "regional meetings" scheduled to commence the next day, December 30, at which the local officials and the candidates' representatives would review any ballots not previously agreed to by all three parties.

9. By letter sent on Saturday, December 27, 2008, at 9:15 a.m., which is attached as Exhibit B, the Franken Committee proposed that the two candidates waive objections to the local officials' lists, waive the right to propose additions to the lists, and agree that all of the ballots on the lists could be simply opened and counted. This proposal would have allowed the Secretary of State to move promptly to open and count the ballots identified by the local officials.

10. The Coleman campaign did not respond. Late in the morning of Sunday, December 28, 2008, David Lillehaug, my co-counsel for the Franken Committee, left messages for Coleman attorneys Fritz Knaak and Tony Trimble. That afternoon, both attorneys declined the Franken offer but refused to say more other than that a Coleman proposal would be forthcoming.

11. It was not until 11:01 p.m. that night that the Coleman campaign made its proposal, which was to concede (and then only conditionally) that a mere 136 ballots had been erroneously rejected. The proposal, attached as Exhibit C, made by Coleman attorney Tony Trimble, purported to be an "initial listing," and was made expressly conditional and "subject to verification and review by the campaigns and county officials at the appropriate regional sorting locations." Mr. Trimble referred to the Protocol as "the procedures agreed to by all parties on December 24, 2008."

12. In Exhibit C, Mr. Trimble stated that the Coleman campaign wanted to add additional ballots, not on local officials' lists, for opening and counting: "We are also finalizing that list to be available for communication to local election officials by 3:00 p.m. tomorrow." Mr. Trimble obviously knew and well understood that the Protocol, Paragraph 15, required that any additions to the local officials' lists, be proposed, agreed to, and communicated to local officials by 3 p.m. on Monday, December 29.

13. In response to the Coleman campaign's list of 136 names, Secretary of State Mark Ritchie sent an email at 9:29 a.m. the next day, asking whether additional names would be provided. Mr. Trimble responded tersely: "Will advise. Tony." The email exchange is attached as Exhibit D.

14. As required by the Protocol, the Franken Committee attorneys appeared at the State Office Building at 10 a.m. on Monday, December 29, for a meeting with officials from the Secretary of State's Office and attorneys for the Coleman campaign. I had anticipated that, during the course of this meeting, the campaigns would negotiate an agreed-upon list of erroneously rejected absentee ballots that could then be presented to the counties, to allow undisputed ballots to be forwarded to the Secretary of State and to narrow the universe of those to be reviewed by the campaigns. That was, to my understanding, the entire point of the meeting. To my disappointment and surprise, no such agreement was reached. Messrs. Knaak and Trimble had nothing new to offer. They rejected the proposal to count all of the wrongfully rejected absentee ballots and said only that they had a new proposal that was not yet complete. They indicated the proposal would be to count only an unidentified portion of the approximately 1,350 ballots on the local officials' lists, plus adding "hundreds" of additional ballots not on the local officials' lists. They refused to provide additional information, including how such a list was being compiled, pursuant to what criteria, or the reasons for delaying the production of such a list until the very last moment. The meeting then recessed. The Deputy Secretary of State noted the 3 p.m. deadline and directed the parties to return at 2:45 p.m. See Exhibit E attached.

15. The Coleman attorneys did not appear at the reconvened meeting until shortly after 3 p.m. At 3:08 p.m., Mr. Trimble's office emailed to the Franken Committee a list of 654 new names, a copy of which is attached as Exhibit F. The Franken Committee immediately objected to the list in its entirety as untimely and noted the extreme burden that had already been placed on the local officials to identify and collect material for regional review sessions that were—at that point—commencing in less than 24 hours. Mr. Trimble refused to state how the list had been generated or the common threads (if any) among the ballots on the list. Upon cursory examination, Mr. Trimble's list was a highly selective, cherry-picked list of rejected absentee voters from areas in which Petitioner Coleman had received large vote margins on Election Day. Because it was plainly an effort to "game" the process, I refused Mr. Trimble's offer. In response, I proposed that the parties agree to at least: (a) the Coleman campaign's initial list of 136 absentee ballots; (b) 130 ballots from Duluth that had been improperly rejected for lack of or incorrect signature dates (which is not a legal requirement); and (c) a list of 91 ballots in rural counties prepared by Deputy Secretary of State Gelbmann. Mr. Trimble rejected that proposal out of hand. When Mr. Gelbmann again asked if the campaigns would agree to his list, so that rural auditors did not need to travel, Mr. Trimble responded only that he would respond "later." The meeting then adjourned without agreement.

16. At 4:29 p.m. on December 29, without agreement by the Franken Committee, the Coleman campaign emailed to local officials the list of proposed additions. See Exhibit G attached.

17. Immediately, the Deputy Secretary of State notified the Coleman campaign that the proposed additions were precluded by the Protocol. See Exhibit H attached. Later that evening, the Franken Committee objected to the proposed additions and advised local officials that the Franken Committee did not consent to opening and counting any of the ballots on the new list. See Exhibit I attached.

18. Most local officials have concluded that the proposed Coleman additions were untimely and that, in any event, the ballots on the Coleman list were not rejected in error.

19. The proposed 654 additions, part of attached Exhibit G, come primarily from areas where the votes already counted have heavily favored Coleman. For example, 94 are from Dakota County, which Coleman won by 8%. 64 are from the City of Plymouth, which Coleman won by 12%. Outer suburbs and exurbs where Coleman won by more than 20% are heavily represented: 32 from Scott County; 31 from Carver County; 23 from Sherburne County; and 15 from Wright County.

20. After the Coleman campaign rejected the Franken Committee's offer to waive additions and objections and to accept the local officials' lists, by letter timely sent on December 28, the Franken Committee requested that the Coleman campaign agree that 85 ballots be added to the local officials' lists. See Exhibit J. The Coleman campaign did not respond. Unlike the Coleman campaign's untimely proposal, the Franken Committee request was supported by affidavits from the voters themselves, or, in the case of voters whose ballots were rejected for lack of registration, evidence from the Secretary of State's database that the voters were, in fact, registered. In each instance, the affidavits had been prepared and submitted to local officials and the Coleman campaign in the weeks leading up to December 24, the date of the Protocol. None was submitted after that date.

21. Pursuant to the Protocol, regional reviews of the ballots on the local officials' lists commenced at 9 a.m. on Tuesday, December 29, 2008, and continued on Wednesday, December 30, and Friday, January 2, 2009. As of the date and time of this affidavit, the vast majority of the 1,350 ballots on the local officials' lists have now been reviewed, with less than 10 remaining to be reviewed by the close of business on January 2, 2009.

22. A few counties have overlooked the untimeliness of the Coleman campaign's proposed additions and have reviewed them. On Wednesday, December 31, officials in Aitkin, Cass, Kanabec, and Wright Counties concluded that the rejection of the identified absentee ballots was not erroneous.

23. It is difficult to overstate the amount of time, energy, and resources that has been devoted by the counties to re-review the 12,000 rejected absentee ballots, to compile lists of those believed to be rejected in error, and to arrange for the regional meetings to review those absentee ballot envelopes and related materials. Both campaigns have devoted an enormous amount of time, energy, and resources to prepare lawyers and campaign staff, on extraordinarily short notice, to review these materials responsibly—all in reliance on this Court's Orders and the agreed-upon Protocol. It is beyond frustrating to receive the suggestion, at the conclusion of this complex and expensive process, that the entire effort was pointless and that, instead, all of this material should be boxed up, delivered to the Secretary of State, and reviewed yet again.

24. The Secretary of State's Office has given notice that the opening and counting of the absentee ballots that local officials and the two campaigns have agreed were rejected in error will commence at 9 a.m. on Saturday, January 3, 2009. This is in compliance with the December 18 Order and the December 24 Order which required that the ballots be counted not later than January 4, 2009.

25. The State Canvassing Board is scheduled to reconvene on Monday, January 5, 2009, to consider any challenges to the newly-opened ballots, complete its canvass, and declare the result of the U.S. Senate election.

Good Evening:

Thank you everyone for working so diligently to come to an agreement on the process for reviewing rejected Absentee Ballots. I really appreciate everyone's willingness to compromise a little to make this happen. You all have my pledge to work with all parties next week to make sure this process is successful.

I had to leave immediately after completing the final agreement to buy my spouse a holiday gift before the stores closed and neglected to send you a copy of the final product. Gary sent it to all counties after receiving input from all parties this afternoon. The only changes made were non-substantive and several that were necessary to comply with Minnesota Law that does not allow non-election officials to "inspect" the voter rosters pursuant to M.S. 204B.40.

Thanks again to everyone for their help.

My best regards.

Have a safe and happy holiday break!!!

Sincerely,

Jim Gelbmann

Processing Improperly Rejected Absentee Ballots for US Senator

As directed by the State Supreme Court, the following process is established to ensure for the proper inclusion of wrongly rejected absentee ballots into county canvassing reports.

1. The Supreme Court has ordered that local elected officials must identify all wrongly rejected absentee ballots for consideration by candidate representatives. Under Minnesota law all absentee ballots are accepted unless they have been rejected for one or more of four specific reasons outlined in Minnesota statute.
2. Local election officials (county and city where appropriate) will identify wrongly rejected absentee ballots and then create a spreadsheet listing all believed to have been rejected in error. This spreadsheet will be used to ultimately determine the ballots you recommend be opened and counted.
3. Those counties and cities that have already completed a sorting of their rejected Absentee Ballots into five categories should include the ballots placed into the category five for both regular and UOCAVA ballots and should do a review of any other rejected Absentee Ballots that you believe may have been improperly rejected.
4. Those counties that have not completed a sorting of their rejected Absentee Ballots should do this as soon as possible, either in a public or private setting. Under the Supreme Court Order, there is no requirement that this sorting be completed as a public process.
5. All wrongly rejected absentee ballots identified by local election officials will be entered into a spreadsheet that lists the name and address of the voter, the precinct and any information available about why the ballot was rejected. This list entered into the spreadsheet should include every ballot that meets the four requirements outlined in Minn. Stat. Sec. 203B.12, subd. 2, and, for UOCAVA ballots, 203B.24 and 203B.25 and was nonetheless rejected. Local election officials will not be simply relying on the reason stated on the envelope for determining if the ballot was properly rejected. For example, if the reason for rejecting the Absentee Ballot states on the envelope: "voter not registered," local officials will verify whether that the voter was registered or not and provide both campaigns and the office of the Secretary of State with a letter certifying that the voter was registered to vote in that precinct.
- 5a. For all absentee ballots that the local elected official believes were wrongly rejected, the local elected official will check the pre-registered election day roster and verify the voter did not vote on election day. The local election official will provide both campaigns and the office of the Secretary of State with a letter certifying that they have completed this review of the roster.
6. No one will open any secrecy envelopes or count any ballots during the spreadsheet creation process.
7. As soon as they are completed, and in no case later than 5:00 p.m. on December 24, 2008, these spreadsheets will be emailed to the Secretary of State's Office and to the campaigns at the following addresses:

trimblelegals@earthlink.net <<mailto:trimblelegals@earthlink.net>>; fknaak@klaw.us

KHamilton@perkinscoie.com <<mailto:KHamilton@perkinscoie.com>>

dlillehaug@fredlaw.com <<mailto:dlillehaug@fredlaw.com>> .

Jim.gelbmann@state.mn.us

8. To clearly identify the spreadsheet as the complete list of all wrongly rejected absentee ballots being recommended for opening local election officials will place the following notation in the Subject Heading for the e-mail: "(name of jurisdiction)'s Recommended ABs Pursuant To Court Order."

9. Counties where there are zero wrongly rejected absentee ballots will send an email to the Office of the Secretary of State and to campaigns at the addresses listed above to confirm this by 5:00 p.m. on December 24, 2008. Again, even if a county has already done this, it is important to do this again to verify that a careful review was completed and that there are no obvious errors. Please send emails stating that there are no wrongfully rejected absentee ballots to with the Subject Heading "(name of jurisdiction) Has NO Recommended ABs Pursuant To Court Order."

10. Local election officials will provide copies of the envelopes and application forms to each campaign, if they have not already done so. This is needed prior to 5:00 p.m. on Friday, December 26th so that they can review the lists. Local election officials shall redact any non-public information included on the applications and/or envelopes. If a county is unable to provide this information to the campaigns by Friday, December 26th, they should do so as early as possible and be prepared to have the information available for the candidates' representatives to review at the county or regional meeting. Candidate representatives must be able to review absentee ballot applications and/or registration applications regarding mismatching signatures, lack of signatures, mismatching address and other incompleteness. Counties must bring these materials to regional meeting if not provided by Friday, December 26.

11. Prior to 10:00 a.m. on Monday, December 29th, representatives of the two campaigns will work together to review the spreadsheets provided by the local officials and identify, without prejudice:

- a) The Rejected Absentee ballots listed on the spreadsheets that both parties agree were wrongfully rejected. The candidates' representatives will provide the Secretary of State's Office and the local officials with a list of absentee ballots they agree have been wrongfully rejected. These ballots will be forwarded to the Secretary of State's Office by the local election officials for receipt prior to 11:59 p.m. January 2, 2009.
- b) Any additional Rejected Absentee Ballots they would like to add to the list. The candidates' representatives will provide the Secretary of State's Office and the local officials with a list of the additional ballots either candidate's representative wants added to the list of wrongfully-rejected absentee ballots along with a notation whether both candidates' representatives agree the ballot was wrongfully rejected.
- c) The Rejected Absentee ballots on the spreadsheets provided by the local election officials that one or both candidate representatives disagree were wrongfully rejected. The candidates' representatives will provide the Secretary of State's Office and the local officials with a list of the rejected absentee ballots for which one or both candidate representatives disagree were wrongfully rejected, indicating which candidate representative(s) disagreed the ballot was wrongfully rejected.

- d) Additional materials that will be needed from individual counties to verify one or more absentee ballot was rejected in error. The candidates' representatives will provide the Secretary of State's Office and the local officials with a list of the additional materials that must be available at the county or regional meeting.

12. Candidate representatives agree to rely on the certification by local election officials that a registered voter who had his or her absentee ballot rejected did not vote on election day if the candidates' representatives cannot verify that a voter is registered according to the Secretary of State's database.

13. For non-registered absentee ballot envelopes, the local election official shall verify that the individual was not registered as of October 14, 2008. If the individual did not register prior to that date and the local election official certifies that a voter registration card was found in the Absentee Ballot envelope, Candidates' representatives may reserve the right to question whether that individual voted in person on election-day. The local election official shall bring the election-day roster for that individual's precinct to the county or regional review location identified in paragraphs 16 and 17.

14. At 10:00 a.m. Monday, December 29th, the candidate representatives and representatives from the Office of the Secretary of State's Office will meet in the State Office Building (room to be determined) to discuss rejected absentee ballots that are listed in 11 (b), 11 (c) and 11 (d). The purpose of the meeting will be to attempt to reach consensus on the actual status of the rejected absentee ballots that are included in these categories.

15. By 3:00 p.m. on Monday, December 29th, the candidates' representatives will forward to the local election officials a list of all additional rejected absentee ballots for which both candidates' representatives now agree were wrongfully rejected. At the same time, they shall forward to the local election officials a list of all rejected absentee ballots for which one or more candidates' representative(s) do not agree were wrongfully rejected. Local officials shall use the second list described in this paragraph to prepare materials for county or regional meetings which will occur on December 30, 31 and January 2nd. These materials shall include voter rosters for the precincts in question, absentee ballot applications, absentee ballot envelopes, and additional materials identified in 11 (d).

16. Local election officials must determine if they intend to participate in a regional meeting where candidates' representatives will be allowed to review the rejected absentee ballots in dispute or if they want to hold such a meeting in their own county. A list of regional locations, including a meeting at the Secretary of State's Office on January 2nd, will be announced by close of business on Friday, December 26th. If a local election official agrees to participate in a regional meeting, he or she will bring all envelopes and other materials related to the absentee ballots about which there is disagreement as to whether they were wrongfully rejected to one of several central locations at a prescribed date and time. In addition to the ballot envelopes local elections officials identified, local officials will also bring any additional ballot envelopes related to absentee voters suggested by one or more of the candidates' representatives that they believe have been wrongly rejected, including original applications, envelopes, voter rosters, etc.

17. The individual county meetings and centralized reviews will occur between December 30th and January 2nd. County auditors who intend to hold their own meetings shall designate a date, time and place to process the rejected absentee ballots in question. The date, time and location for the regional meetings shall occur during the same time period and the Secretary of State's Office shall note which jurisdictions' rejected absentee ballots will be reviewed at each regional meeting. Notice must be given to the candidate representatives and the Secretary of State's Office at least 24 hours before any of the meetings are to begin. Local officials who intend to schedule a meeting on Tuesday, December 30th, should notify candidate representatives of the date, time and place of the meeting by close of business on Friday, December 26th, knowing that such a meeting may need to be cancelled depending upon the outcome of negotiations between the candidate representatives and the Office of the Secretary of State over the weekend of December 27th. This meeting must be open to the public.

18. For those ballots where there is disagreement about whether it was rejected in error, the election official will review the voter's absentee ballot application, the absentee ballot envelope, the voter's certificate if it is not printed on the envelope, and the roster to determine whether or not it was rejected for one of the reasons laid out in Minnesota Statutes, sections 203B.12, subd. 2 or, for UOCAVA ballots, 203B.24 and 203B.25. Each candidate's representative may designate two representatives to observe this review and to inspect the absentee ballot envelope, but not the voter roster.

19. If the local election official or representative from any of the campaigns does not agree that the ballot was rejected in error, they must sign a statement to that effect about each ballot, laying out the statutory grounds under which it was properly rejected. After the review, these envelopes will be brought back to the county or city and stored securely with their other election materials

20. All rejected absentee ballot envelopes upon which representatives of both candidates and the local election officials agree were wrongfully rejected shall be forwarded to the Office of the Secretary of State for receipt no later than 11:59 p.m., Friday, January 2nd

21. The county auditor shall store the absentee ballots that all parties agree were wrongly rejected securely until they are transmitted to the Secretary of State, in the secure manner prescribed by the Secretary of State.

22. The Office of the Secretary of State will open, sort and count all of the received ballots in a public setting. As in the recount, campaign representatives may challenge the determination of the Office of the Secretary of State based upon voter intent or identifying marks. Challenged ballots will be brought before the State Canvassing Board for final determination.

23. These votes will be incorporated into the recount totals before the State Canvassing Board certifies the result of the US Senate race and reported to the State Canvassing Board by the Secretary of State for certification by the State Canvassing Board.

Re: Minnesota Supreme Court Orders of December 18 and 24, 2008 –
Proposal to Open and Count Approximately 1,350 Absentee Ballots Identified by Local Officials as Erroneously Rejected

Gentlemen:

As you know, pursuant to the Minnesota Supreme Court's Orders of December 18 and 24, 2008, local officials have now identified and furnished lists of what they consider to be erroneously rejected absentee ballots. The lists total approximately 1,350 ballots.

While we believe that there are additional ballots erroneously rejected that do not appear on the lists, and that there may be issues with certain ballots that have been placed on the lists, in the interests of avoiding further disputes and ensuring that votes are counted, we propose that each candidate forego additions to the lists, forego objections to ballots on the lists, and agree that all of the approximately 1,350 ballots be opened and counted by the Secretary of State on or before Monday, January 4, 2009.

Senator Coleman's acceptance of this proposal would in no manner diminish each candidate's right to challenge the opened ballots on the grounds of voter intent or identifying marks, as allowed by the Minnesota Supreme Court orders. These challenges would be resolved by the State Canvassing Board on January 5, 2009.

No doubt Minnesotans would be gratified if the candidates reached agreement to enfranchise 1,350 voters and avoid further disputes. However, time is of the essence; in the absence of a prompt agreement, the local officials and the candidates' attorneys will need to turn their attention to additions and objections to the lists to meet the deadlines previously established by the Minnesota Supreme Court, the State Canvassing Board, the Secretary of State, and local elections officials. We look forward to hearing from you. Please do not hesitate to call me if you would like to discuss.

Attached please find an initial listing of the rejected absentee ballot envelopes identified by local election officials that the Coleman campaign agrees were improperly rejected due to "obvious error" and should be opened and counted pursuant to the Supreme Court's December 18, 2008 Order.

The submission of the attached list should not be construed as a waiver and the ballots identified on the list will be subject to verification and review by the campaigns and county officials at the appropriate regional sorting locations.

The Coleman campaign's agreement as to each name on the attached list is further contingent on election official verification that the persons identified on such envelopes did not vote on election day (as required pursuant to Item 5a in the procedures agreed to by all parties on December 24, 2008). We have received verification from no counties to date as to the same.

Please note that we are unable at this time to agree whether or not a significant number of the envelopes identified by local election officials should be opened because we have not received the relevant information from the counties as required pursuant to Items 5 and 10 in the procedures agreed to by all parties on December 24, 2008. This information includes copies of absentee ballot applications and verification from the counties that persons previously identified as not registered to vote were, in fact, registered to vote. We are in the process of finalizing this list and will be prepared to discuss the issue further at tomorrow's meeting.

Additionally, some counties have identified envelopes as improperly rejected that were not contained within the copies of envelopes provided by these counties to the Coleman campaign pursuant to data practices requests. We are also finalizing that list to be available for communication to local election officials by 3:00 p.m. tomorrow.

We are continuing our review of absentee ballot envelopes provided by local election officials to determine whether the Coleman campaign believes any additional envelopes were improperly rejected due to obvious error, and whether or not further information is yet required from local election officials. Accordingly, we reserve the right to supplement the attached list as counties provide additional information and as our review continues. Please review, consider and advise as to any questions or comments. Thank you.

Dear Tony, Thank you very much. This appears to cover 137 individuals, about 10% of the list. Will you be sending additional names today?

Sincerely, Mark Ritchie

EXHIBIT D

Attached please find an initial listing of the rejected absentee ballot envelopes identified by local election officials that the Coleman campaign agrees were improperly rejected due to "obvious error" and should be opened and counted pursuant to the Supreme Court's December 18, 2008 Order.

The submission of the attached list should not be construed as a waiver and the ballots identified on the list will be subject to verification and review by the campaigns and county officials at the appropriate regional sorting locations.

The Coleman campaign's agreement as to each name on the attached list is further contingent on election official verification that the persons identified on such envelopes did not vote on election day (as required pursuant to Item 5a in the procedures agreed to by all parties on December 24, 2008). We have received verification from no counties to date as to the same.

Please note that we are unable at this time to agree whether or not a significant number of the envelopes identified by local election officials should be opened because we have not received the relevant information from the counties as required pursuant to Items 5 and 10 in the procedures agreed to by all parties on December 24, 2008. This information includes copies of absentee ballot applications and verification from the counties that persons previously identified as not registered to vote were, in fact, registered to vote. We are in the process of finalizing this list and will be prepared to discuss the issue further at tomorrow's meeting.

Additionally, some counties have identified envelopes as improperly rejected that were not contained within the copies of envelopes provided by these counties to the Coleman campaign pursuant to data practices requests. We are also finalizing that list to be available for communication to local election officials by 3:00 p.m. tomorrow.

We are continuing our review of absentee ballot envelopes provided by local election officials to determine whether the Coleman campaign believes any additional envelopes were improperly rejected due to obvious error, and whether or not further information is yet required from local election officials. Accordingly, we reserve the right to supplement the attached list as counties provide additional information and as our review continues. Please review, consider and advise as to any questions or comments. Thank you.

Subject: Additions To Wrongfully Rejected Ballots

Gentlemen:

It would appear as if Rule 15 that we adopted last week would preclude the addition of any additional wrongfully rejected ballots unless both candidates agree. That list would have had to have been forwarded to the counties by 3:00 p.m. today.

I assume the rule now prevents any additions to the approximately 1350 ballots that the counties have identified as being wrongfully rejected.

Rule 15 states, in pertinent part:

15. By 3:00 p.m. on Monday, December 29th, the candidates' representatives will forward to the local election officials a list of all additional rejected absentee ballots for which both candidates' representatives now agree were wrongfully rejected.

To my knowledge, no such list was forwarded to the counties by the 3:00 p.m. deadline.

My best regards.

Sincerely,

Jim

Subject: Response to Coleman Attempt to Add Absentee Ballots

Dear Election Officials:

Late this afternoon, the Coleman campaign for the first time identified over 650 absentee ballots that they believed may have been mistakenly rejected. None of these absentee ballots were identified by the counties as "wrongfully rejected" pursuant to the Supreme Court's December 18, 2008 Order. Instead, the Coleman campaign proposes to require that the counties throughout the state add these 654 absentee ballots for examination in addition to those identified by the counties, starting tomorrow morning.

To be clear: we object to this last-minute effort and do not agree that these absentee ballots should be re-examined yet again. County auditors around the state have devoted long hours and made tremendous efforts to review over 12,000 rejected absentee ballots to identify those that were mistakenly rejected. That list of more than 1340 ballots is and should be the focus of review during the course of the next few days, as envisioned by the Supreme Court's Order. In our view, at this point, it is simply impossible as a practical matter to add another 654 ballots to this list and ask our county auditors to start all over again. As a result, please take note that the Franken campaign objects to adding these at this point in the process.

If you do have the time to review these, and if you do believe that any of them may have been improperly rejected, then please let me know and we would be happy to review those specific instances. In the absence of your determination, in the exercise of your professional judgment, that one or more of these ballots were wrongfully rejected, then we object to the consideration of any of these ballots, and we object specifically to opening and counting any of them. We have communicated this position both to the Coleman campaign directly as well as to the Secretary of State.

Thank you again for all of your hard work over this entire election process. It is deeply appreciated by all concerned.

David Lillehaug

Re: Additional Absentee Ballots Proposed to be Counted

Gentlemen:

You told me today that the Franken Committee's proposal that the two candidates consent to the opening and counting of the approximately 1,350 ballots identified by local officials, without further additions or objections, is not acceptable.

Therefore, the Franken Committee proposes that 85 voters, with respect to which affidavits have been submitted to the counties and to the State Canvassing Board, be added to the local officials' lists. The 85 voters are identified by name and county on List A attached hereto. We request your agreement that these 85 voters may have their ballots opened and counted.

We also note that, by letter dated December 23, 2008, the Olmsted County Attorney's Office stated that it had no objection to adding to its error list four voters: Richard Haefner, Christopher Lust, Van Schwartz, and Goldie Suk. Affidavits or declarations have been submitted with respect to each. We request your agreement that these four voters may have their ballots opened and counted.

We ask that you respond specifically as to each of these voters. This proposal is made without prejudice to the Franken Committee's right to propose additional voters and to make objections as necessary.

This weekend was the time the candidates were supposed to exchange information on the local officials' recommendations, so that we could have a productive meeting with the Secretary of State's Office tomorrow at 10 a.m. The Franken Committee's proposal with respect to local officials' error lists was made about 9:15 yesterday morning. Since then, we have received absolutely nothing in writing from the Coleman campaign. I was forced to call you this morning to learn that the Franken proposal had been rejected. Mr. Knaak told me that something might be forthcoming tonight, but that he made no promises.

Please let me know when we will receive the Coleman campaign's proposal.

Very truly yours,

David L. Lillehaug
