AS AND FOR A FIRST AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

78. New York conducted its 2010 Primary Election on September 14, 2010, and will conduct its general election on November 2, 2010.

79. The voting systems have been programmed and any attempt to alter the programming at this late date would place the 2010 General Election in jeopardy.

80. New York’s procedure with respect to the handling of overvotes was established long before this action was filed on June 28, 2010.

81. Plaintiffs’ have been aware of this since not later than February 3, 2010.

82. By reason of the foregoing, plaintiffs’ request for interim injunctive relief is barred by the doctrine of laches.

AS AND FOR A SECOND AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

83. A party seeking to invoke federal jurisdiction must establish standing to sue under Article III § 2 of the United States Constitution, which limits the courts to hearing actual cases or controversies.

84. To establish standing, the party must set forth, inter alia, specific facts identifying an injury in fact that is concrete and particularized and actual or imminent, not merely conjectural or hypothetical.

85. The amended complaint alleges only the mere potential for voter confusion in upcoming elections with respect to overvotes.

86. By reason of the foregoing, plaintiffs lack standing to maintain this action.

AS AND FOR A THIRD AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

87. Plaintiffs have sued the Commissioners of Election in the City of New York solely in their official capacity.

88. Plaintiffs, in ¶B of the ad damnum clause, seek relief against the Commissioners in their individual capacity.

89. In light of the fact that the Commissioners were not sued in their individual capacity, this Court lacks jurisdiction to grant plaintiffs' any such relief.

WHEREFORE, the Board Defendants respectfully request that this Court enter judgment dismissing the complaint in its entirety, together with the costs and disbursements of this action, and for such other and further relief as the Court may deem just and proper.
