UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE NORTHERN DISTRICT OF OHIO

OHIO DEMOCRATIC PARTY, Plaintiff, v. OHIO REPUBLICAN PARTY, DONALD J. TRUMP FOR PRESIDENT, INC., ROGER J. STONE, JR., and STOP THE STEAL INC., Defendants.	Civil Action No. 1:16-cv-02645-JG JUDGE JAMES S. GWIN MAGISTRATE JUDGE THOMAS M. PARKER

DECLARATION OF DAWN L. SMALLS, ESQ.

I, Dawn L. Smalls, am of full age and, upon my oath according to law, hereby certify as follows:

1. I am a partner in the law firm of Boies, Schiller & Flexner LLP, which is co-counsel for Plaintiff Ohio Democratic Party in the above-captioned matter. I am familiar with the facts related to this litigation, and with the facts related to service of court documents to Defendants.

2. I have coordinated efforts by two process serving firms in two states to effectuate service upon Defendants Roger J. Stone, Jr. ("Stone"), and Stop the Steal Inc. ("Stop the Steal") in the above-caption matter. The firm in California is First Legal Network, and the address of its Los Angeles office is 1517 West Beverly Boulevard, Los Angeles, CA 90026. The firm in Florida is PI Services, and its address is 1234 South Dixie Highway, # 157, Coral Gables, FL 33146.

3. On or about November 2, 2016, I viewed an article that was published in The Guardian; was dated October 20, 2016; and reported that Stone founded Stop the Steal before the Republican National Convention in July. Upon viewing the article, I saved a copy electronically. Annexed hereto as Exhibit 1 is a true and accurate copy of the article I viewed.

4. Stop the Steal is a Section 527 exempt political organization (Employer Identification Number 81-2115618) under the Internal Revenue Code. Pursuant to Section 527's filing requirements, Stop the Steal regularly completes publicly available Form 8871 and 8872 submissions (the "Section 527 filings"), listing its contact information and that of its custodian and contact person.

5. On or about November 1, 2016, I viewed one Form 8871 submission by Stop the Steal; it was completed on April 6, 2016, and amended on June 3, 2016. I also viewed three Form 8872 submissions, dated July 15, 2016; October 15, 2016; and October 26, 2016.

6. On all four Section 527 filings, Stop the Steal reported its business address as: 3843 South Bristol Street, Suite 312, Santa Ana, CA 92704 (the "Santa Ana address"). On all four filings, Stop the Steal reported its email address as: no@email.

7. On the original Form 8871 submission, dated April 6, 2016, Stop the Steal reported its custodian and contact person to be Sarah Rollins ("Rollins"). Stop the Steal reported

Rollins' address as the Santa Ana address. On the same Form 8871 and on the Form 8872 submission dated July 15, 2016, Stop the Steal reported its Treasurer to be Rollins, and her mailing address to be the Santa Ana address.

8. On the amended Form 8871, which is dated June 3, 2016, and on all three Form 8872 submissions, Stop the Steal reported its custodian and contact person to be Brad Boeck ("Boeck"). On all of these submissions, Stop the Steal reported Boeck's address as the Santa Ana address.

9. Upon viewing the original and amended Form 8871 and three Form 8872 submissions, I saved copies of them electronically. Annexed hereto as Exhibits 2 to 6 are true and accurate copies of the filings I viewed and saved, in chronological order.

10. On or about November 1, 2016, I viewed Stop the Steal's website "Stop The Steal." On the website, Stop the Steal reports its location as the Santa Ana address.

11. Upon viewing the website, I captured an image of the address and saved it electronically. Annexed hereto as Exhibit 7 is a true and accurate copy of the image I captured and website I viewed.

12. On or about November 1, 2016, I sent a California process server from First Legal Network to effectuate service upon Stone and Stop the Steal at the Santa Ana address.

13. The process server later reported to me that the Santa Ana address is the location of a UPS store. The process server reported that there was no room or unit designated as Suite 312; rather, "Suite 312" refers to a UPS box number.

14. The process server also reported that the clerk on duty at the UPS store refused to disclose the identity of the owner of Suite 312. In addition, according to the process server, the clerk would not accept process on behalf of the owner of Suite 312 unless the server could identify the owner's name.

15. The process server reported that he asked the UPS clerk whether Stone or Stop the Steal was the owner of Suite 312. According to the server, the UPS clerk said no and refused to accept process. The process server said he left the store.

16. Performing research on Stop the Steal, counsel for Plaintiff found its original Form 8871 submission dated April 6, 2016. From the form, counsel for Plaintiff learned that, at the time of signing, Stop the Steal's custodian and contact person was Rollins.

17. On or about November 1, 2016, I sent the process server again to effectuate service upon Stone and Stop the Steal at the Santa Ana address.

18. The process server reported that the UPS clerk again refused to accept process on behalf of the owner of Suite 312 unless the server could identify the owner's name. According to the server, he asked whether Rollins was the owner of Suite 312, and the UPS clerk said no. The server reported that UPS clerk refused to accept process, and that he left the store.

19. Performing additional research on Stop the Steal, counsel for Plaintiff found its amended June 3, 2016, Form 8871 submission and three Form 8872 submissions, dated July 15, 2016; October 15, 2016; and October 26, 2016. From these filings, counsel for Plaintiff learned that Stop the Steal's current custodian and contact person is Boeck.

20. From the research, counsel for Plaintiff also learned that, on its public filings with the Federal Election Commission, the super PAC Committee to Restore America's Greatness PAC (Committee ID # C00589879) reports its address to be the Santa Ana address. On or around November 2, 2016, I viewed an article that was published in The Hill; dated December 17, 2015; and reported that Stone launched the Committee to Restore America's Greatness PAC.

Upon viewing the website, I saved a copy electronically. Annexed hereto as Exhibit 8 is a true and accurate copy of the article I viewed.

21. On or about November 2, 2016, I sent the process server once more to effectuate service upon Stone and Stop the Steal at the Santa Ana address.

22. The process server reported to me that, on the third attempt, he asked the UPS clerk on duty, Eric Sanchez ("Sanchez"), whether Brad Boeck or the Committee to Restore America's Greatness PAC was the owner of Suite 312. Sanchez confirmed that the box was owned by both Boeck and the Committee to Restore America's Greatness PAC. Because Boeck is Stop the Steal's custodian and contact person, the process server effectuated service on Stop the Steal by leaving the documents at the Santa Ana address.

23. On or about November 3, 2016, the process server provided me with proof of service, attesting that he served process on Boeck on behalf of Stop the Steal. Publication of the proof of service via ECF is forthcoming.

24. In addition, on or about November 1, 2016, I purchased a background report on Stone from a private informational services provider. The background report listed Stone's confirmed home address as 265 North Shore Drive, Miami Beach, FL 33141 (the "Miami Beach address").

25. On or about November 1, 2016, I sent a Florida process server from PI Services to effectuate service on Stone at the Miami Beach address.

26. On or about November 1, 2016, the process server, Juan Barroso, told me that earlier in the day, he unsuccessfully attempted to effectuate service at the Miami Beach address. The server reported that he went to the Miami Beach address and saw no vehicles on the property. The process server reported ringing the doorbell without receiving an answer.

27. On or about November 2, 2016, the process server told me that, during the morning, he unsuccessfully attempted for a second time to effectuate service at the Miami Beach address. The process server reported no vehicles on the property. The process server also reported ringing the doorbell without receiving an answer.

28. On or about November 3, 2016, the process server provided me with proof of service, explaining his attempts to effectuate service at the Miami Beach address. Publication of the proof of service via ECF is forthcoming.

29. On or around November 1, 2016, I viewed Stone's personal website, stonezone.com. On the contact page of his website, Stone reports his email address as stone@stonezone.com.

30. Upon viewing the page, I saved a copy electronically. Annexed hereto as Exhibit 9 is a true and accurate copy of the page I viewed.

31. Moreover, on November 1, 2016, I emailed stone@stonezone.com with the Complaint, summons, and orders related to the above-captioned matter. As of this filing, stone@stonezone.com neither has replied to my message nor has sent a read receipt.

32. After sending the email, I saved a copy electronically. Annexed hereto as Exhibit 10 is a true and accurate copy of the email I sent.

33. After due search and careful inquiry, Plaintiff and its counsel cannot determine the identity of Stone's counsel.

34. Donald F. McGahn II ("McGahn") is counsel for Defendant Donald J. Trump for President, Inc. On October 31, 2016, McGahn accepted process on behalf of the organization. I viewed an email by McGahn confirming receipt on October 31, 2016. Upon viewing the email, I saved a copy electronically. Annexed hereto as Exhibit 11 is a true and accurate copy of the email I viewed.

35. On or about November 1, 2016, I viewed an email by Michael J. Gottlieb, co-counsel for Plaintiff, to McGahn requesting information or guidance on how to effectuate service upon Stone or his counsel. As of this filing, McGahn has not responded to Gottlieb's email. Upon viewing the email, I saved a copy electronically. Annexed hereto as Exhibit 12 is a true and accurate copy of the email I viewed.

36. Later that day, I viewed another email by Gottlieb to McGahn inquiring once again about information or guidance on how to effectuate service upon Stone or his counsel. As of this filing, McGahn has not responded to this second email. Upon viewing the email, I saved a copy electronically. Annexed hereto as Exhibit 13 is a true and accurate copy of the email I viewed.

37. Meanwhile, Stone has acknowledged the above-captioned matter in statements to reporters and a public tweet.

38. On or about November 1, 2016, I viewed an article published in LawNewz.com in which the author posted Stone's full press release concerning the above-captioned matter. In the statement, Stone stated: "I'm honored but the lawsuit is without merit and the lawyers who filed it could face sanctions."

39. In the statement, Stone also spoke on behalf of Stop the Steal: "Stop the Steal in partnership with Voter Protectors is conducting a neutral, scientifically based EXIT POLL in order to compare the actual machine results with the exit poll results in 7000 key precincts. . . . All we ask is [a fair] standard apply to the 2016 Presidential election. Since it is our intention to interview voters voluntar[il]y after they vote[,] it [is] ha[r]d to see how voters would find this intimidating. Our methodology is no different than that used in the network consortium exit polls." (emphasis added).

40. Upon viewing the article, I saved a copy electronically. Annexed hereto as Exhibit 14 is a true and accurate copy of the article I viewed.

41. Stone's Twitter account name is @RogerJStoneJr. On or about November 1, 2016, I viewed the following tweet published by @RogerJStoneJr and dated October 31, 2016: "I'm honored and flattered but the Democrats['] lawsuit against me is utter bullshit." The tweet also included a link to the Stop The Steal website. As of this filing, the tweet is still on his Twitter page.

42. Upon viewing the tweet, I captured an image of the message and saved it electronically. Annexed hereto as Exhibit 15 is a true and accurate copy of the image I captured and message I viewed.

I hereby certify that the foregoing statements made by me are true to the best of my knowledge and belief. I am aware that if any of the foregoing statements made by me are willfully false, I am subject to punishment.

Trump loyalists plan own exit poll amid claims of 'rigged' election

Effort led by Trump confidante and conspiracy theorist Roger Stone targets cities with large minority populations, a tactic experts say could intimidate voters

Oliver Laughland and Sam Thielman in New York

Thursday 20 October 2016 17.40 EDT

Donald Trump loyalists will attempt to conduct their own crowd-funded exit polling on election day, ostensibly due to fears that electronic voting machines in certain areas may have been "rigged", the Guardian has learned.

But the effort, led by Trump's notorious informal adviser Roger Stone, will focus on 600 different precincts in nine Democrat-leaning cities with large minority populations, a tactic branded highly irregular by experts, who suggested that organizers could potentially use the polling as a way to intimidate voters.

Stone told the Guardian that around 1,300 volunteers from the controversial Citizens for Trump grassroots coalition would conduct exit polling in Cleveland, Detroit, Philadelphia, Las Vegas, Milwaukee, Fort Lauderdale, Charlotte, Richmond and Fayetteville - all locations in pivotal swing states.

Media organizations and political campaigns conduct exit polling for all major elections, but David Paleologos - a polling expert and director of the Suffolk University Political Research Center - said effective exit polling was done in bellwether precincts, not in areas likely to be dominated by a particular political party.

"It doesn't sound like that's a traditional exit poll," Paleologos said of Stone's planned efforts. "It sounds like that's just gathering data, in heavily Democratic areas for some purpose. It doesn't sound like exit polling."

The Republican nominee said during Wednesday's debate he would keep America "in suspense" over whether he would accept the outcome of the vote on 8 November, and on Thursday he said he would accept only "if I win" or if it is a "clear" result. He has frequently told his supporters that the election is being "rigged" against him, and since August his campaign has been recruiting election observers in anticipation of what he claims could be widespread voter fraud.

On Thursday, Stone, a noted conspiracy theorist, argued that the campaign had focused their efforts to combat the so-called "rigged election" in the wrong area and should instead concentrate on "election theft" via hacked or compromised voting machines.

"To those who say that it would be un-American to challenge the election on the basis that it was rigged, I would argue it would be un-American to have evidence of that rigging and not challenge the election," Stone said.

Experts have taken several steps to remedy the digital vulnerabilities in voting machines in recent years. Last year at least one voting machine system was found to be substantially insecure. Princeton researcher Jeremy Epstein, now of technology firm SRI, discovered that WinVote machines used in Virginia could be accessed comparatively easily over a Wi-Fi connection through simple passwords. Epstein successfully pushed to have the machines decertified.

Epstein told the Guardian that exit polls in particular were a dangerously inaccurate way to gauge the legitimacy of an election. "There's a lot of evidence that exit polls are not very accurate," Epstein said. "People don't tell the pollsters what they actually did. In this election, depending on the neighborhood, people might not want to admit that they voted for Clinton or that they voted for Trump."

There are already methods in place to determine the accuracy of the results in a contested district. "Roughly 75, 80% of all voters in this election will use paper ballots," Epstein said, "so even if the machines were hacked, we'd have the paper ballots to go back to in most cases, especially in states where they do audits."

The Department of Homeland Security is already taking precautions to make sure election results are not interfered with electronically. "To date, 33 state and 11 county or local election agencies have approached the Department of Homeland Security about our cybersecurity services," the department said in a press release issued 10 October. DHS continues to offer "cyber-hygiene" services to other state or local boards looking for protection against hacking.

Rick Hasen, an election law expert at the University of California, shared Epstein's concerns over using exit polls as way of measuring the legitimacy of an election and warned: "It doesn't sound like a scientific way to do things, nor do I think it's a sound way to ferret out machine problems, it sounds much more like a Roger Stone dirty trick."

Stone, who did not identify the particular precincts volunteers would be targeting, argued that the polling methodology, was "designed by professionals", but was unable to identify who these professionals were. The former Richard Nixon adviser added that the effort was being run by the "Stop the Steal" organization, a group founded by Stone in the lead up to the Republican national convention in July, which organized protests aimed at preventing party delegates from taking the nomination away from Trump.

The Citizens for Trump coalition, which will supply volunteers for the polling, was also present at the Republican convention and organized a large rally in Cleveland alongside a host of fringe organizations, including armed vigilantes group Bikers for Trump and the conspiracy theorist website Infowars.

"It sounds like he's organizing a goon squad that could potentially be intimidating voters in minority areas," said Hasen. "It does raise the threat of violence on election day at polling places. People are going to have to be vigilant."

Trump ally launches super-PAC

By Jonathan Easley

Getty Images

Controversial political consultant Roger Stone, who left Donald Trump's campaign in August, has launched a super-PAC to support the GOP front-runner's bid by taking aim at his rivals — Marco Rubio in particular.

In an open letter on the website for the Committee to Restore America's Greatness, Stone alleges that the Republican establishment seeks to take down Trump.

"The Washington, D.C. insiders, special interests, lobbyists and a handful of self-interested billionaires plan an all-out paid media assault to destroy the candidacy of Donald Trump," Stone writes.

He directs the bulk of his fire at Rubio, calling him a "boy-toy for billionaires" and claiming that the Florida senator, "backed by a number of high-powered billionaires, has entered into a secret alliance with Governor John Kasich of Ohio" to defeat Trump.

"So, there you have it," Stone writes. "The RINOs (Republicans in Name Only), Rubio and Kasich, are teaming up for an expensive attack campaign in an attempt to destroy the candidacy of Donald Trump. Will you help us stop them?"

The Wall Street Journal first reported the news.

Stone is a colorful and enigmatic figure.

He flaunts his decadent lifestyle, and has claimed credit for contributing to the demise of former New York Attorney General Eliot Spitzer's demise, saying he provided key information to the FBI about Spitzer's prostitution scandal.

He has also worked for the campaigns of former Presidents Reagan and Nixon.

Stone and Trump appear to have a combustible relationship.

"Roger is a stone-cold loser," Trump told The New Yorker in 2008. "He always tries taking credit for things he never did."

But Stone worked as an adviser to Trump's campaign earlier this year, before leaving under odd circumstances.

Trump has so far made a point of rejecting the help of super-PACs, arguing that he's the only candidate not benefiting from the support of outside groups and claiming that because he's self-funding his campaign, he's the only one not beholden to special interests.

The super-PAC seeks a way around this.

“We are only accepting contributions from individuals,” the group’s website states. “Any corporate or business contributions will be returned.”

A phone call to the Trump campaign has not been returned.

Democrats Sue Donald Trump, Roger Stone for Voter Intimidation in 4 States

lawnewz.com/high-profile/breaking-democrats-sue-donald-trump-roger-stone-for-voter-intimidation-in-4-states/

By Rachel Stockman

Leaders from state Democratic parties in four states have filed federal lawsuits against Donald Trump, Trump advisor Roger Stone, and state Republican parties for "conspiring to threaten, intimidate, and thereby prevent minority voters in urban neighborhoods from voting in the 2016 election." The legal effort is lead by Marc Elias, the general counsel for the Hillary Clinton campaign.

The lawsuits filed in Nevada, Arizona, Pennsylvania, and Ohio are asking a judge to stop the defendants from monitoring polls, verbally harassing voters, and following them around to take pictures.

In one of the lawsuits, filed by the Nevada Democratic Party, against Stone, Trump, and the Nevada Republican Party, the plaintiffs point to a statement given by an unnamed Trump official that "[w]e have three major voter suppression operations under way" as evidence. The complaint further alleges:

> Trump's supporters have responded with pledges to descend upon polling places in "certain areas" where many minority voters live in order to interfere with their efforts to exercise the franchise…
> Immediate relief is necessary. There are only 8 days left until Election Day, and early in-person voting in Nevada is well underway. Trump's calls for unlawful intimidation have grown louder and louder, and the conspiracy to harass and threaten voters on Election Day has already resulted in numerous acts that threaten to interfere with the voting rights of registered Nevada voters.

The complaint also names Stop the Steal, which is a super PAC formed by Trump advisor Roger Stone. In the lawsuits, the Democrats claim "Stone has a history of engaging in voter intimidation, racist and misogynist hate speech, and incitement to violence."

The lawsuit then goes through several instances in which Trump allegedly spread "misinformation" about the election being rigged. For example, at an October 20 rally in Delaware, Ohio, Trump told the crowd that Clinton is "truly capable of anything, including voter fraud." The lawsuit alleges that Trump, Stone, and the local Republican parties have violated the Voting Rights Act, and the Klu Klux Klan Act. We are reaching out to the defendants for comment, and will update accordingly.

Last Wednesday, the DNC filed a motion in federal court which claimed that the RNC, through Donald Trump's own statements, violated a longstanding consent decree that prohibits Republicans from engaging in "ballot security" measures which could intimidate minorities.

Update 2:20 pm October 31, 2016:

Statement from Roger Stone:

“I’m honored but the lawsuit is without merit and the lawyers who filed it could face sanctions. Stop the Steal in partnership with Vote Protectors is conducting a neutral, scientifically based EXIT POLL in order to compare the actual machine results with the exit poll results in 7000 key precincts. Precincts are chosen base on one party rule and past reports of irregularities- not racial make-up as falsely reported in the alt-left media. The US State Department (under Hillary Clinton) required not more than a 2 % deviance between actual reported results and exit poll results in judging the integrity of foreign elections. All we ask is the same standard apply to the 2016 Presidential election. Since it is our intention to interview voters voluntary after they vote it had to see how voters would find this intimidating. Our methodology is no different than that used in the network consortium exit polls. We are not coordinating with the Trump campaign , the Republican National Committee or the individual Republican State Committees. We seek only to determine if the election is honestly and fairly conducted and to provide a an evidentiary basis for a challenge to the election if that is not the case. I assume the purpose of this bogus lawsuit is to distract from the voter-fraud the Democrats have traditionally engaged in.

Racist? I was working and marching for reform of New York’s racist Rockefeller Drug laws before the DNC spokesperson was born.”

I'm honored and flattered but the Democrats lawsuit against me is utter bullshit. StoptheSteal.com Exit Poll will not be stopped.
