Delayed Birth Certificates

When a child is not born in a hospital or birthing center, it is the responsibility of the parents to file a birth certificate. If they do not file a birth certificate before the child's first birthday, they must apply for a Delayed Birth Certificate. Before the child reaches the age of one year, you can file for a home birth with the county in which the child was born.

Filing for a Delayed Birth Certificate can be a lengthy process, taking up to one year to complete. This depends on the supporting documents that are submitted by the applicant. So be patient.

There are several steps involved. Please read them all.

1. The first step is to establish that, in fact, the child has no birth certificate on file with the Office of Vital Records. To do this you will file an application for a certified copy of the child's birth certificate. If we find that there is no record on file, we will issue a Certificate of No Record. Along with this you will also receive a delayed birth packet containing forms and detailed instructions on how to file for a delayed birth certificate.
2. When you receive the delayed birth packet, take the time to read it thoroughly before you do anything else. We have found that when people do not do this it significantly delays the process unnecessarily.
3. Arizona Administrative Code R9-19-207 sets out two criteria for filing for a delayed birth certificate. These are for a child who is age 1 - 14 years of age and the other is for a child over 15 years of age of older.

If your child is between the age of one and fourteen, these are the requirements to file for a delayed birth certificate:

1. File an application for a certified copy of their birth certificate along with a traveler's check, cashier's check or money order for $10.00. If none is on file, the Office of Vital Records will issue you a Certificate of No Record along with a Delayed Birth Application Packet. You will need to send the Certificate of No Record in along with your completed packet.
2. You will find an Affidavit of Facts of Birth in your packet. This must be completed by someone who has personal knowledge of when and where the child was born. This can be the mother, father, relative or other person who was at least 10 years old when the child was born. Whomever completes this form must sign it in front of a Notary Public who will notarize the signature. If this affidavit is altered or not notarized we cannot accept it and you will have to do it over.
3. You will need to submit one independent factual document that was established before the child was five years old, that contains the child's name, date of birth, place of birth, and the date the document was established. When possible, you should provide original documents or notarized copies. If you provide originals, we will return them.

4. You will need to submit one independent factual document that establishes the mother's presence in Arizona at the time of the child's birth. This document must include the mother's name, street address and date. This information must establish that the mother was, in fact, in the State of Arizona on the date the child was born.

If your child is fifteen years of age or older, these are the requirements to file for a delayed birth certificate:

1. File an application for a certified copy of their birth certificate. If none is on file, the Office of Vital Records will issue you a Certificate of No Record along with a Delayed Birth Application Packet. You will need to send the Certificate of No Record in along with your completed packet.

2. You will find an Affidavit of Facts of Birth in your packet. This must be completed by someone who has personal knowledge of when and where the child was born. This can be the mother, father, relative or other person who was at least 10 years old when the child was born. Whomever completes this form must sign it in front of a Notary Public who will notarize the signature. If this affidavit is altered or not notarized we cannot accept it and you will have to do it over.

3. You will need to submit one independent factual document that was established before the child was ten years old, that contains the child's name, date of birth, place of birth, and the date the document was established. When possible, you should provide original documents or notarized copies. If you provide originals, we will return them.

4. You will need to submit one independent factual document that was established at least five years ago, that contains the child's name, date of birth, place of birth, and the date the document was established. When possible, you should provide original documents or notarized copies. If you provide originals, we will return them.

5. You will need to submit one independent factual document that establishes the mother's presence in Arizona at the time of the child's birth. This document must include the mother's name, street address and date. This information must establish that the mother was, in fact, in the State of Arizona on the date the child was born.

CHAPTER 9 FEES

901. Can I charge people to notarize their documents?

Yes. The fees that you can currently charge are no more than $2.00 and are outlined in A.A.C. R2-12- 1102. (The Arizona Administrative Code Rules has the full force and effect of law.) If you charge fees for performing notarial acts, you either charge the fees up to the amounts specified by rule or you perform the notarial acts for free. You are not allowed to charge more FOR NOTARIAL ACTS than the amounts specified in A.A.C. R2-12-1102, even if you call the additional charge a "service fee" "transaction fee" or some other name. Such a practice would constitute "charging excessive fees" which is not allowed according to A.R.S. §§ 38-413 and 41-316(C). If you charge higher fees than those allowed by rule, you are liable to the party aggrieved in an amount four times the fee you unlawfully demanded and received. You would also be guilty of a class 5 felony. If your company or office tells you to charge more than is allowed by rule, please show your employer the laws and rules pertaining to Notaries Public and explain that overcharging for notarial services is a felony. Your employer may call the Secretary of State's Office if questions about this law arise. Please note: if you charge fees for notarial acts, you must post a list of those fees in a conspicuous location. (A.R.S. §§ 41-316, 38-412, and 38-413.)

902. Can I charge some people one price and other people another price?

If you do this, the people whom you charged a higher amount could claim that you discriminated against them. It's best to set your fees and then stick to them. Either charge the same fee for every notarization or don't charge at all. When you treat people differently concerning fees, you could face a discrimination lawsuit.

903. Do I have to post my fees?

A.R.S. § 38-412 requires notaries to post in a conspicuous place a schedule of the fees they are allowed to charge. Publishing the fees in a brochure is not considered a "conspicuous" posting.

904. What happens if I charge more than the rules say I can? Can I add on a "service charge"?

If you charge more than the rules allow for a notarization, you are liable to the person whom you charged the excess fee an amount four times the fee unlawfully demanded and received. In addition, you would be guilty of a Class 5 felony. (A.R.S. §§ 41-413, and 41-316(C)).

You could charge a travel mileage fee and charge per diem, however, if you must travel a distance to perform the notarization. The travel mileage fee and the per diem that you could charge would be the amount allowed Arizona state employees. Currently, the mileage fee is 34.5¢ per mile. The per diem charge depends on when you leave your home base (either a business address or a home address, depending on whether you are performing the notarization for your employer or on your own time), when you return to your home base, and how long you were gone for the purpose of performing the notarization. The rates change periodically. Check with the Secretary of State's Office before charging a customer to ensure

Forms and Fees

This page provides you with access to immigration forms. Providing forms online is the most used feature of the USCIS Website.

NOTE: Due to an unusually large volume of receipts at the Service Centers, it is taking longer than expected to enter cases into the system. Depending on the type of case and service requested, it may take approximately 14 days to generate and mail receipt notices. Once the receipt notice has been generated, it may take an additional 2 to 3 days for customers to receive their receipt notices in the mail. Per existing policies and procedures, requests for Premium Processing Service will continue to be processed within 15 days. USCIS wishes to assure all customers that the original received date will be honored and recorded on the receipt notice. This date will appear in the "Received Date" box on Form I-797, Notice of Action. The received date is different from the "Notice Date", which also appears on Form I-797. The Notice Date is the date the receipt notice was actually generated. USCIS has taken appropriate measures to address this situation.

Fees should be made payable to Department of Homeland Security or U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services.

Please take the time to read our General Directions on Immigration Forms, as well as Fee and Fee Waiver Information. You may also wish to read about paying immigration-related fees after March 1, 2003.

Signature Requirements: All applications, petitions, and notices of legal representation must be properly signed. For more information, please read Reminder Regarding Signature Requirements.

Fingerprints: Where instructed, you must pay a $70 biometric fee for electronically capturing fingerprints, in addition to the base filing fee.

Note: Not all immigration-related forms are produced by USCIS. These agencies also issue forms that may be useful to you:

Forms with a  icon are Fillable Forms and may be filled out on your computer. Please see our instructions regarding these forms. Note that a fillable form is not the same as electronic filing.

Some forms may be available for electronic filing. These are marked with a  icon.

For information regarding proposed changes to USCIS forms, please see our Paperwork Reduction Act Resource Center.

Warning! Many non-USCIS websites offer immigration forms. Some will allow you to download them for a fee. These sites are not affiliated with USCIS, and these sites may not have the latest official versions of forms. In some circumstances, use of older forms may result in your application or petition being denied or delayed. Changes made to immigration forms are always noted under What's New in Forms and reflected on the Forms Entry Page \(FEP\) for that form.

Deposits

When you sign up for service with APS, you may be asked to pay a deposit. Deposit amounts may vary depending on credit score results, and will not exceed two times the average monthly bill at the service address.

The deposit will be retained until you have achieved 12 consecutive months of prompt payment. Once you have established a good payment history, the deposit plus interest will be applied as a credit to your account on the 13th month. If you disconnect service before your deposit is applied, it will be credited to your final bill.

A deposit will earn interest effective with the date it is posted to the account, however, the interest is not paid until the deposit has been on the account for a minimum of 6 months.

If your bill payments are delinquent two or more times in a 12-month period, or your service is disconnected for non-payment, you may be asked to pay a new security deposit of two times your average bill.

In lieu of a deposit, APS will accept a letter of credit verification from an electric utility company where service was received for at least 12 consecutive months within the past two years.
